

Supermarket

A reason to celebrate

This project was like a gift for Astron. Bel Emballage is a leading distributor of party accessories and decorations for all the various kinds of festivities that take place throughout the year. To be able to present its enormous product range, the customer required a new and larger sales area.

The steel hall in Bordeaux is a unique sight. The entrance area is like a huge gift box, so the hall looks as if it has been wrapped as a present. The 1,000 m<sup>2</sup> supermarket for decorations and party accessories is a contemporary, modern solution that has professionally implemented technical expertise. Thanks to the experience of our on-site French Builder Partner, Travaux Aquitains, the project was quickly completed.
