

Space for more than just cars

Companies that have a big car fleet need a lot of space to park all of their vehicles safely. This is especially the case for a rental car centre. Europcar in Kelsterbach, near Frankfurt airport, realised they had an urgent problem. They required many more parking spaces in a relatively small parking area. So an individual two-storey parking deck was constructed for the rental car centre in which even a fuel station as well as a car washing facility were integrated.

The Europcar parking deck in Kelsterbach has 300 parking spaces. Astron was able to fulfil several special wishes that the rental car centre had and offer an individual construction that was also cost-effective. The challenging project was erected by LIG-Bau GmbH.
