

A place for the community

This multifunctional building was constructed for the Czech town Kraluv Dvur. Our clients were convinced by the high quality of the building materials, the tight schedule and the attractive budget calculation. Our Czech Builder Partner Hanseatic, which has its headquarters in Prague, constructed the hall perfectly and received an award for it.

The multifunctional building has a total area of over 2,500 m<sup>2</sup>. In the building complex there is an indoor sports hall which caters for more than 300 spectators. In addition to that, the building has a restaurant. The design of the hall blends perfectly into the cityscape. With the curved roof and the aesthetic elements, the leisure centre makes a harmonious and welcoming impression. The clients were very delighted with the result. The building is a real asset and has become a new meeting place for the city's residents.
